WE HAVE THE STROKE EDUCATION YOU NEED

Earn CE and get the stroke nursing education you need without the expense and hassle of travel! The Virtual American Association of Neuroscience Nurses (AANN) Advances in Stroke Care Conference will bring you more stroke education than ever before, and you can earn up to 30 CE contact hours! This conference brings together subject matter experts providing the latest information in stroke nursing over three inspiring days—all online. The content addresses quality, clinical practice, and program management.

This is the premier educational event for advanced practice nurses, stroke coordinators or administrators, critical care neuroscience nurses, nurses new to stroke care, and those preparing for the Stroke Certified Registered Nurse (SCRN®) examination. Get relevant stroke nursing education for you and your team and take advantage of the discounted registration fees for groups of five or more.

FEATURED EDUCATION

Wednesday, August 4, 2021, 8 am-4:30 pm CT

SCRN Review Course

Participate in the SCRNP Review Course to better understand your current knowledge as it applies to certification and determine where additional studies are needed. This course is also for nurses interested in updating, enhancing, and increasing their knowledge base in the stroke patient care settings.

Linda Littlejohns,
MSN RN CCRN
SCRNP FAAN

3D Stroke Anatomy and Assessment

A solid knowledge of vascular anatomy in 3D is the foundation for assessment and management of stroke patients. This session will demonstrate blood vessels and anatomical structures in the brain and brain stem using Anatomage 3D software, color-coded vessels, and case studies. Patient care, and the ability to assess and teach patients as they move from a stroke diagnosis to recovery and rehab, will be enhanced as we travel through the brain in a dimension not available in a book.

Experiences from the COVID Cloud: Emerging with Resilience

COVID-19 changed the world, with its most evident effects occurring in health care. As a result of increased hospital volumes, nurses have found innovative ways to care and advocate for our stroke patients. Networking and support have helped us to progress; sharing experiences is essential for us to move forward.

Overview of the Care of the Patient with Acute Ischemic Stroke

Nursing care of patients experiencing an ischemic stroke focuses on the nurses' ability to rapidly assess, triage, and intervene to promote optimal functional recovery. Knowledge gaps may exist for nurses practicing in a variety of acute care settings surrounding care of acute ischemic stroke patients. This session will discuss updated science related to care of acute ischemic stroke patients.

PFO Closure in 2021: New Long-Term Data on PFO Closure for Secondary Stroke Prevention

Supported by: W. L. Gore

Friday, August 6, 7:25-8:25 am CT

Clinical Considerations in Stroke or Transient Ischemic Attack

Speaker: Crystal Traylor, APRN MSN

Supported by: AstraZeneca Pharmaceuticals, LP

Learning Objectives:

- Understand the disease burden and pathophysiology for acute ischemic stroke (AIS) and appreciate the underlying alterations in platelet physiology and phenotype in the context of AIS or high-risk transient ischemic attack (TIA)
- Learn about the use of BRILINTA in patients with AIS and high-risk TIA and the differentiation of P2Y12 inhibitor use in this patient population
- Appreciate the evidence and indications for BRILINTA across the spectrum of atherosclerotic and atherothrombotic disease by understanding the BRILINTA Pivotal Trials and the recently published THALES Trial

TESTIMONIALS FROM PAST CONFERENCE ATTENDEES

The conference was very informative and has helped encourage me to learn more and perform at a higher level.

Another fantastic conference. This is by far one of the best conferences around. If I have to choose which conference to attend on an annual basis, this is the one that I choose each and every year!

This conference was very informative and provided a lot of feedback on how to work through barriers that we have faced.
